

THE PRESIDENT'S FIANCEE.

Interesting Reminiscence of One of Miss Folsom's Ancestors.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—A private letter received in this city from S. A. Curtis, of Stratford, Conn., contains an interesting reminiscence of Lady Sterling, one of the ancestors of Miss Folsom, whom it is said the President will marry.

"A few years prior to the Revolutionary War," writes Mr. Curtis, "Lord Sterling, an English nobleman, while journeying from New York to Boston, stopped a few days in Stratford, where he became enamored of a beautiful girl, Miss Folsom by name, whose father was the village blacksmith. Upon his return from Boston a few weeks later the two were married. Shortly after this Lord Sterling sailed for Europe to apprise his family of his marriage and to make preparations for removing his wife thither. As the story goes, Miss Folsom's family regarded Lord Sterling as an adventurer, and the village beauty married him against their wishes. When a year passed and no tidings reached America of the absent Lord, the tongues of the village gossips were loosened, and between the upraising of her parents and the gibes of the townspeople the young wife's life became a burden to her. One day a liveried servant put in an appearance at Stratford. He announced himself as the messenger of Lord Sterling, and said a ship, then lying in New York Harbor, was waiting to convey her ladyship to England. She was told by all the busy-bodies in Stratford that she would not be received in England as Lord Sterling's wife, but she went, nevertheless. Lord Sterling's family gave the young woman a cordial greeting and she speedily became a general favorite. The marriage proved an unusually happy one. Some of the descendants of the Folsom family still reside in Stratford, and it is from this stock the President's fiancée has sprung. Upon the site of the old 'smithy' now stands the mansion erected in colonial days by Dr. Samuel Johnson, one of the early regents of Yale College."

California's Racing Stables.

The sporting editor of the Mail and Express says: Eastern turf-goers may rest satisfied that now the entire California contingent, except Beaconsfield and Duke of Norfolk and one or two horses of less consequence, is in the best racing shape and dangerous enough to place in jeopardy some of the richest prizes in the East. All the horses in Huggin's stable are in a forward condition, and I believe one of the 3-year-olds in the stables will win the Derby, my choice of the lot of course being Ben Fox, then Ben Ali. Following him is Preciosa. The latter is within five pounds of her best form. All the racing stock stable of Porter Ashe, including the fast Alta and the famous Binnette, are ready for company. Lucky Baldwin expresses himself pleased with his entire lot. Tyrant and Hidalgo have not lost any of their speed and are in the best of health. When the California racers come on supplemented by cracks from the Western stables of Pete Corrigan, Cassidy and Morris, Eastern turfmen will have to fight hard to win 40 per cent of the stakes at Saratoga, Sheepshead Bay, Jerome Park, Monmouth Park, Washington and Baltimore. In fact, I do not believe they will win 40 per cent of the stakes.

SAL-MUSCATELLE IN AMERICA Without the Expense of an European Journey!

The crystallized salts, as obtained in a pure state from grapes and choice fruit, in a portable, palatable, simple form, are now presented to the public of America as the grandest solvent of impure blood, corrector of the liver and regulator of the bowels—the natural promoter of

HEALTH AND LONGEVITY.

Eminent physicians claim this achievement a new era in the allied science of medicine, as it furnishes the blood with its natural salines that are lost or eliminated every day.

Sal-Muscetelle A POSITIVE NATURAL SICK HEADACHE and DYSPEPSIA CURE.

Sal-Muscetelle is Nature's own product. It supplies to the system the want of sound, ripe grapes and fruit; it is the simplest and best preventative and cure for all functional derangements of the liver and its kindred ailments; prevents the absorption of malarial diseases—fevers of all kinds; counteracts the effects of bad air, poor drainage and impure water; a powerful oxydizer of the blood; a natural specific for all skin eruptions, such as head-aches, biliousness, nervousness, mental depression, and will remove the effects of accidental indigestion from excessive eating and drinking. Have it in your homes and on your travels. It is a specific for the lagged, weary or worn-out. Prepared by the

STRIKES AND THEIR COST.

The advance sheets of the report of Joseph D. Weeks, expert and special agent of the Census Bureau, upon the strikes and lockouts occurring within the United States during the calendar year 1885, have been received by the Interior Department. The records show, he says, that many strikes and lockouts still grow out of the most trivial causes. It is also true, especially in localities where large bodies of workmen are gathered, that there will always be found men who too frequently, from sinister and mercenary motives, create dissension and endeavor to inaugurate strikes, and when strikes are in progress their duration is liable to be prolonged by the efforts of such persons. Yet the tendency, as stated, is toward less frequent strikes and lockouts. The number of strikes in certain prominent trades as given in the report is as follows: Iron and steel industries, 236; coal mining, 158; textile trades, 46; cigarmakers, 42; building trades, 36; transportation, 36; printing trades, 28; glass industries, 27; piano-making, 14; boot and shoe-making, 11. Much the greater proportion (71 1/2 per cent.) of the strikes and lockouts reported upon were caused by difficulties as to rates of wages. A total of 503, or about 86 per cent of those relating to rates of wages, or 62 per cent. of all, were for an advance, and 77, or 14 per cent. of those relating to rates of wages, or 9 1/2 per cent. of all, were against a reduction. The strikes growing out of demands for an advance are much more uniformly successful than those against a reduction.

From 414 of the 762 strikes full reports were received, showing the number of men idle in such cases to have been 128,262, making an average of about 310 men to each strike. The report concludes: "As to the wages lost, it appears that 64,779 employees lost $3,711,079. This would be at the rate of $57 each. As the entire number of employees estimated was 228,138, the total loss of wages would be $13,003,866 which would have been received had the works run constantly. Of course, there would be a number of offsets to this. In case the strikes were successful additional wages would compensate for a portion of this loss. In other cases, where unionism existed in the trades in which there were strikes, the men received strike pay or strike benefits, but strike benefits were, in most cases, simply refunding the money that had been previously paid. Then, in many cases, parties on strike secured employment in other industries, and hence their actual loss would be what wages they would have earned at their old labor minus what they did earn in a presumably less profitable employment."

The General Committee of the Grand Army of the Republic having in charge the arrangement for the National Encampment which is to be held at San Francisco, commencing August 2d, has prepared an elaborate programme which extends up to the 12th of that month. Besides the parades, meetings, balls and receptions, there will be excursions to different localities in the counties surrounding the Bay and to the Capital of the State. The number of visitors coming from the Eastern States are expected to reach fifteen to twenty thousand, and altogether it will be the grandest celebration ever held in the State.

Commodore Russell, commanding the Mare Island Navy Yard, will probably be ordered, at an early day, to the command of the South Atlantic squadron, to succeed Rear Admiral English, retired. It is thought that Commodore Belknap, at present Superintendent of the Naval Observatory, will be ordered to succeed the Commodore in the command at Mare Island Navy Yard.

Official figures from the Denver Mint gives the mineral output for Colorado for 1885 as follows: Gold, $5,000,000; silver, $13,500,000; copper, $1,700,000; lead, $3,381,000. Total, $22,581,000.

REGARDING DRUMMERS.

The House Committee on Commerce in their report in favor of a bill which provides that residents of each State and Territory may, within other States and Territories and within the District of Columbia, solicit from dealers or merchants orders for goods and merchandise by sample, category, card, prize list, description or other representation, without payment of any license or merchant tax, state that certain laws in different States, Territories and the District of Columbia, imposing a license fee on commercial travelers from other States, seems to discriminate against citizens and products of other States, and that in the confusion of such taxes that free inter-State commerce which is designed under the constitution is interfered with and restrained. The Committee concede the right of a State to tax its citizens engaging in any business, but deny that a State has the right to lay a duty upon importations from one State into another under the name of license, tax or penalty "although the State, Territory or District at the same time provides for the same tax equally upon residents and non-residents. Such laws," says the committee, "although not discriminating in favor of residents, are in conflict with the constitutional power of Congress to regulate commerce between the States." The judicial decisions in support of this position are cited. The report states explicitly that the object of the bill is to prevent any State, Territory or the District of Columbia from requiring a license from those who are exclusively agents in inter-State commercial transactions. The report concludes as follows: "The contracts for sale made by the commercial travellers are not consummated in the State when the order is solicited, but the final assent thereto is given by the merchant or principal, who receives and executes the order of his correspondent. This trade is now carried on without objection by the postal communication and samples by mail, and it is not perceived why the same thing executed by the commercial traveler in person is in any way objectionable."

The Chronicle correspondent asked Mr. Powdely what he thought of the President's message on the labor troubles. He said he had not time to read it carefully, but had glanced over it and liked it as far as it went. "It is not just what I want though," he said. "I want a department of labor. I don't believe in doctoring these troubles. I want to go to the root of the disease. Strikes are but medicines; they relieve the patient for a time, but his sickness comes back on him. The matter must be seriously and carefully studied. We need a department of labor to have the records on file to make a careful and constant study of the labor question, and be ready to act and to recommend action at any time. Arbitrations would be conducted from this department." The President's idea of having a permanent Commission on Arbitration he liked better than the bill that came from the House Labor Committee, which provides for arbitrators to be appointed in each particular case.

A New York morning journal says: Arthur, since his condition has been so critical, has been surrounded by his immediate family and friends. Nellie, who recently went to Washington to be confirmed, returned four weeks ago, and with her brother, Alan, and her aunt Mrs. McElroy, is in constant attendance upon her father. That the ex-President may live for weeks to come is a mere possibility, but it does not enter into the calculations of those who know his condition as it really is.

Senator Jones says he voted for Zach Montgomery's confirmation because he had known him personally thirty years as an honest man, and didn't care what his religious sentiments might be.

A Michigan member of Congress wants an appropriation to teach the Indians the effect of alcoholic liquors. There is no need of it. The red man has the knowledge by instinct.

The question of what became of the $10,000 in greenbacks that has disappeared from the United States Treasury remains unanswered.

Handwriting Upon the Wall.

The San Francisco Call says: The effect the policy of the Administration is having upon the Democracy of the country and that class of independent voters which voted the Cleveland ticket in 1884 is clearly seen in the recent municipal elections at the East. In the city of Indianapolis the Republicans elected their entire city ticket by a largely increased majority; in Cleveland, with the liquor interest against them, the Republicans nevertheless elected the Mayor and City Council; in Toledo heavy Republican gains were made, and the same report comes from other towns in the State; in Hartford, Conn., the Republicans re-elected their Mayor, carried both branches of the City Council and increased their majorities generally; Madison, Wis., the home of Postmaster-General Vilas and a dozen of his appointees, went Republican for the first time in many years, overcoming by 400 a Democratic majority of 1,000.

All this is cumulative evidence of the displeasure of many Democrats and Independents at the President's Mugwumpian alliance, and his pronounced free-trade views. It shows that one party does not want counsel from another; that it wants "Jacksonian principles, pure and simple," and it also shows that free trade will not be permitted. It is a handwriting on the wall which those most interested should heed.

"Speaking of Jones," said a Comstocker in the office of the Palace, the Nevada Senator being under discussion—"speaking of Jones, he is the cheerfulest man I ever saw."

"Why?" asked a cut-rate tourist in search of information.

"Because he trusts in God," answered the Comstocker. "I don't say that Jones is a pious man, for I have no desire to influence Eastern sentiment wrongfully, but he's got more faith in Providence than all the rest of the Senate put together. When he made his first race for the seat in '72, I was working hard for him. At one stage of the fight it looked mighty blue for John P., and I said so."

"Don't you worry," says Jones. "Providence is looking out for me, Joe."

"Providence!" says I, bewildered, for I couldn't see what Providence could have to do with Nevada politics."

"Yes, Providence," says Jones. "I've always believed in Providence since one day, years ago, when I was Sheriff over in Shasta county. It was a roaster of a day, and I was returning on horseback from a hunt for some elusive robbers. I was slowly following a faint mountain trail, and the sun was just baking me, and the horse was in a lather. I came under the shade of a big rock, and thought it would be pleasant to get off and have a smoke. I sat down on a cool boulder, cut a pipeful from my plug, filled my pipe and felt for a match. Well, Joe, there wasn't a match anywhere in my pockets. I searched and searched, but there was no match. I tell you Joe, I felt worse over that disappointment than I've done since when the market has gone back on me and hit me for a hundred thousand at a clip. But while I sat there on that boulder wrapped in gloom, what d'ye suppose my eye suddenly fell on? A match, by heaven, lying on the trail not six feet away from me! I used it—though I was a little afraid to touch it at first—and had my smoke. So you needn't worry about how this political fight is going to come out. A man for whom Providence will go to the trouble of providing a match for a smoke in the wilds of the Sierra Nevadas, where man's foot scarcely ever treads, isn't likely to get left when it comes to a commonplace little thing like being elected to the United States Senate."

"Ever since that time," concluded the Comstocker, "I've never refused a dollar to a person, and have generally done my best, in a quiet, unobtrusive way, to make myself solid with the people who have the pull on Providence." So says the Post.

From what we can understand all of our county officials, with one exception, are candidates for re-election this Fall.—Tuscarora Times-Review.

The New York Judge says the next strike will be against the Democratic party.

RECLAIMING THE DESERT.

The N. L. & Co's Irrigating Enterprise.

The Silver State says: The Willow Creek dam on the Nevada Land & Cattle Company's ranch was completed last Wednesday. This dam is fifty feet high and makes a reservoir 500 feet in surface area, with an average depth of 25 feet, for the purpose of storing water, when plenty, as it always is in the early Summer months, for use late in the season when it is scarce. The 500 acres of alfalfa seeded by the company last season stood the Winter well, and now looks inviting, its deep green contrasting beautifully with the sombre hue of the surrounding sagebrush. The company now have fifty men and several teams engaged on their Rock Creek ranch grubbing, ditching and plowing, preparatory to seeding the land with alfalfa.

The system of reclaiming the sagebrush plains and irrigating large areas of alfalfa by storing water in reservoirs, adopted by this company, is being watched with interest by all who are interested in the welfare of Nevada. The soil of our sage covered plains is as fertile as that of any State in the Union, and our climate is adapted to the growth of all the cereals and grasses of the temperate zone, but the scarcity of water absolutely prevents the cultivation of the soil to any great extent. Without water for irrigating, Nevada, except in a few favored localities, is worthless for farming purposes, while if water could be obtained every sagebrush plain in the State could be made to produce bountiful crops of grain and hay. In May and June, when the snows are melting in the mountains, water is abundant, and torrents roll down almost every defile or canyon. If this water could be stored for use later in the season, the prosperity of the State would be insured. The first systematic attempt to attain this end has been made by the N. L. & Co., under the management of T. D. Parkinson, who conceived the idea years ago, and selected Willow and Rock Creeks as suitable places for practically demonstrating its utility. As he has now achieved success, and broad fields of alfalfa are seen where sagebrush brush grew a few years ago, it is probable that the reservoir system of storing water will be adopted where the conditions for its use are favorable.

Blaine Not Working for a Renomination.

New York, April 23.—"Mrs. Blaine's presence this week," said a near friend of that lady's husband to the reporter of the Mail and Express to-day, "has been for the purpose of shopping for herself and children."

"Is it true that Blaine is actively engaged in starting a boom for the ticket?"

"It is not. He is perfectly quiet, resting from his recent literary work, and is very much engaged just now in building his Bar Harbor cottage. He takes no interest in political subjects and studiously avoids the subjects, numerous reports to the contrary notwithstanding. All the statements in the papers that he or his friends are making plans about politics are false. He has said nothing about the nomination for 1888. His friends are taking no interest in it and are making no movements in regard to it. This is an absolute fact. As to Blaine's being jealous of Logan, fearing the latter will be placed at the head of the ticket next time, that is not so. Blaine's friends are Logan's friends. There is the best of feeling between the two."

"Is Blaine contemplating the writing of another book?"

"He is to collect matter for a new literary work after his Summer is over, but of its nature I cannot tell you at present."

Territorial Judges.

There is a strong probability that the Senate Judiciary Committee will report unfavorably the nominations of all the newly-appointed Justices of the Territorial Supreme Courts. Edmunds, as well as the other Republican members of that committee, takes the ground that removals should not be made in such cases except for cause, and then only by and with the advice and consent of the Senate. Under the present Administration eleven appointments to Territorial Judgeships have been made, of which three are in New Mexico, three in Arizona, two in Utah, and one in Dakota, Montana and Washington Territory.

The California Republican State Central Committee will meet in San Francisco to-day.

During the first nine months of the present fiscal year, ending June 30, 1886, there was an income of over $7,000,000 in the revenues of the Government, as compared with the corresponding period last year; and the expenditures for the first nine months of this year were over $16,000,000 less than the expenditures for the same period of last year—making a net gain of over $23,000,000.

For Greenland's Icy Mountains.

Civil Engineer Robert E. Perry, U. S. N., has been granted leave of absence for one year for the purpose of exploring the interior of Greenland. He will leave St. Johns early in May for Disco and be accompanied by three men. It is a private enterprise and entails no expense on the Government.

Wm. Walter Phelps reports that Blaine is in splendid condition, physically and mentally—better, indeed, than he has been for years. His literary labors now being off his mind, he has a good chance to rest, with the fine financial results of his work, to console and nothing to worry him.

Mrs. C. Fairbank has removed from Battle Mountain to Reno, because of the facilities it affords for educating her grand-children.
Miss Nellie Ash is teaching the South Side scholars while Miss Frankie Grippen is temporarily employed in Mr. Nixon's place at the Bank.
Wm. M. Stewart, Senator Evan Williams and Judge Rising came up from the Bay yesterday morning, and took the V. & T. train for the south.
J. B. Hiskey, Treasurer of Esmeralda county, died last Friday of heart disease. The deceased was an old and well known resident of the coast.
A fine span of black horses, with a handsome carriage and phaeton arrived here on yesterday morning's freight train, and was shipped to Carson for Senator Stewart.
Stop in at Brookins' and ask the prices of his new stock of stationery just received from the East at a low freight rate, and you will think he is giving his goods away.
Charles E. Fairbank, Traffic Agent at San Francisco of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway, came up from the Bay Sunday morning, and spent the Sabbath in Reno.
The Democratic State ticket is about made up. Adams for Governor, Cassidy for Congress, Belknap for Supreme Judge, Schooling for Treasurer, Webster, Cresswell and Fitzgerald for District Judges.
The Carson team beat the Virginia team at Carson Sunday by a score of 826 to 801. The Carson team then shot to beat the record and scored 851. Jim Holbrook made 41 in the first and 45 in the second trial.
District Attorney Cresswell, of Lander, departed for Austin yesterday morning. During his stay in Reno he made many friends who will support him for the Democratic nomination for one of the three District Judges.
The steam laundry will receive some washing to-day, but will not be in good working order until next week. The expert laundryman came up from below yesterday morning and is busy getting things ready for work.

OUR NATIONAL GAME.—The Typo and Duds Base Ball Clubs played another match game of ball on their grounds Sunday, which resulted in a victory for the former. In the second inning, Mr. Smith, who was acting as umpire, got struck in the mouth with a "foul tip," cutting his upper lip clear through. Mr. Bird then umpired to the finish. Following is the score:

SMICIDE.—Last Saturday evening Henry S. Carrier, a passenger on the emigrant train, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head. The deed was done after the train pulled out of Wadsworth. The remains were brought to Reno, and Sunday Coroner Brown held an inquest. The deceased was on his way from Oak Center, Wisconsin, to Los Angeles, with his wife and two little children, whom he left destitute, but who have been provided for by strangers. The deceased was buried in Reno yesterday afternoon.

A PROBABLE FATAL INJURY.—Last Saturday evening as Edward Bates, the well known rancher living near Reno, was trying to stable some horses he was knocked down and run over by one of them and received a terrible blow on the side of his head which caused a dangerous concussion of the brain. The injured man is about 45 years old, strong and healthy, and it is possible he may pull through, but his physician, Dr. Dawson fears the worst.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.—The Grass Valley Union of Sunday says: Walter, in his ninth year, the eldest son of John W. Maddrill, editor of the Austin Reveille, was yesterday stricken with paralysis, and there is reason to fear that a fatal result will follow. Mrs. Maddrill with her son has been visiting here for some time, and the child was suffering from whooping cough when this more dangerous visitation came to him.

THE BALL LAST NIGHT.—Armory Hall was crowded last night by Odd Fellows, their relatives, friends and acquaintances, gathered together to celebrate, by dancing, the anniversary of the Order and the three links. The floor was in fine condition, the Committee very courteous, and the music of the Virginia Orchestra nearly divine. There has not been a more pleasant party here for many months.

STATE LAND OFFICE.—During the two weeks ending April 25, applications for and first payments have been made on 15,012 67 acres; 35 patents have been issued in same period embracing 4,713 63 acres; 14 contracts for new land have been completed in duplicate and 21 substitutes made in lieu of a like number of those made under the old law.

A LITERARY MATINEE.—At Bishop Whitaker's school to-day (Tuesday), at 2 o'clock, a literary matinee will be held in the general school room. The exercises will consist of compositions, music and recitations. Friends of the school are invited to be present.

THE HALLECK CATTLE COMPANY.
The Home Ranch of the "White Faces" in Nevada.
The editor of the Cheyenne Northwestern Live Stock Journal had a very pleasant visit a short time since to the fine stock ranch of the Halleck Cattle Company, near old Fort Halleck, in the Humboldt Valley, Nevada. The ranch is located eleven miles south of Halleck station, on the Central Pacific Railroad, and consists of twenty thousand acres of deeded land lying at the foot of a magnificent range of snow capped mountains. The location is charming and picturesque and columns might truthfully be written in praise thereof. The ranch covers the bottom lands of two crystal brooks and includes the plateau between them. The natural meadows along the creek bottoms last year afforded a yield of blue stem and native clover hay of one thousand tons and the hundred acres of alfalfa yielded an average of five tons to the acre. Nearly one-half of the entire area of the ranch can be irrigated from the two brooks, thus affording, when once under cultivation, an almost unlimited amount of alfalfa hay. A fine ranch house on the hillside, associated as it is with the warm hearted and genial Joe Scott, gives the visitor a remarkably pleasant idea of the ranchman's hospitality.
The company has large range cattle interests in northern Nevada and in Montana, but the Halleck ranch is being fitted for breeding thoroughbred cattle exclusively. Herefords are the choice of the company and at the head of the herd is "Homestretch," a splendid individual and half brother to the late famous "Rudolph." The herd consists of 56 head of thoroughbred Herefords. In the pasture are 270 head of high-grade cows and heifers, many of them almost pure, from which a very superior class of graded Herefords are being raised for range service.
Knowing the ambition and nerve of friend Scott we confidently look forward to the day when the Halleck breeding ranch will be noted all over the country as one of the finest in the land and the popular resort for lovers of fine cattle. There are a number of prize winners among the young bulls and heifers raised on the place, they having been taken from the field and exhibited at the State Fair last year.
STATE UNIVERSITY.—New books—School Elocution, from A. L. Bancroft & Co.; Civil Government, from Naby's Bazar; General Statutes of Nevada, from J. M. Dormer; Barnes' U. S. History, from E. F. Adams; Museum of Anatomy, from Washington, D. C. Fifteen elm trees presented by Mr. B. White, and some ivy presented by Mr. S. O. Shoemaker have been planted in the University campus.
The Episcopal Church was crowded both morning and evening Sunday, it being Easter. The floral decorations were elegant and made the interior resemble a conservatory of flowers. The musical selections as arranged by Miss Eva Quiffie were well rendered by the members of the choir and the Sunday School. The Easter offerings amounted to nearly $300, over $118 of which came from Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls.
Mrs. May Lyman departed for Butte City yesterday morning to join her husband.
Advice to Mothers.
Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-awf-1yr
